

Chief Executive Staffordshire Chambers of Commerce

If you're looking for a strategic leadership role where your impact can be seen and felt across a whole county -supporting businesses, influencing policy and shaping long-term economic prosperity, then this is an opportunity to lead real, lasting change.

For over 200 years, Staffordshire Chambers of Commerce has been a trusted, independent voice for business - supporting entrepreneurs, SMEs and major employers across our county. They champion growth, opportunity and prosperity, helping businesses belong, connect and thrive.

This is a meaningful opportunity for a commercially astute, people-focused leader who is passionate about Staffordshire - ready to create real impact across the business community and play a pivotal role in shaping the county's economic future.

What you'll do:

As Chief Executive, you will lead the next chapter of Staffordshire Chambers of Commerce - setting direction, strengthening commercial position, and representing the voice of business across the county. You'll:

- Lead delivery of the Board's strategy and drive the Chamber's commercial growth.
- Build strong, trusted relationships with MPs, councils, business leaders and key partners.
- Grow and strengthen membership so the Chamber remains the place businesses want to belong.
- Provide clear financial leadership, overseeing budgets, as well as leading and managing funding bids.
- Shape and amplify the Chamber's policy and advocacy voice through our Council, forums and wider stakeholder networks.

The Chamber is in a strong position. Respected, stable and purposeful, and there is real freedom to shape its future. It's not broken; this is about taking something good and making it great.

What we're looking for:

We are seeking a leader who brings a blend of commercial sharpness, strategic vision and a natural ability to build and foster relationships. This may be your next-step CEO role, or you may already be operating at the executive level. We are especially interested in candidates who:

- Have a strong track record of leading change and driving growth in a senior leadership role
- Have experience modernising or transforming an organisation - respecting its heritage while bringing fresh thinking and steady improvement
- Are passionate about Staffordshire and about supporting SMEs, start-ups and scale-ups, and can speak credibly across the whole business community
- Bring strong financial and commercial acumen, with the ability to diversify income and increase commercially generated revenue
- Lead with authenticity: supportive, empowering, non-micromanaging, and able to take people with them on the journey
- Are based locally or committed to spending time in Staffordshire each week
- Can confidently engage MPs, councils, universities and senior business leaders across the area
